

4-H/Middle Earth Student Ambassadors for Community Health (SACH)

Exhibitor Guide

Objectives

Somerset County 4-H and Middle Earth team up to empower youth to identify problems and create solutions to support the community culture of health. They implement self-designed projects from a youth perspective, focusing efforts in Bound Brook, NJ. Information is gathered from community organizations and local government to ensure the perspective of those within the community will be included, and inspires projects completed by the SACH teens.
